Programme	SLOVENE SCHOLARSHIP FUND SI04, EEA
Measure 4	Inter-institutional cooperation projects in higher education
Aims and description of the measure	The measure enhances inter-institutional cooperation of the higher education institutions (and other relevant organisations, such as enterprises, NGOs) between the countries participating in the Slovene Scholarship Fund EEA/NFM.
	Activities that are eligible within the framework of this measure are Intensive programmes (hereinafter IP) , which constitute short study programmes on a specific topic (10 full successive days). The programme shall be recognised for the participating students by ECTS credits, which shall count towards regular study requirements.
Beneficiaries	The students and teaching staff of the instit	utions participating in the IP.
Eligible applicants	Application may only be submitted by legal entities. All participating institutions shall be holders of ECHE. Organisations shall apply in the form of a consortium. A consortium shall be comprised of at least three institutions, of which one shall be from Norway, one from Slovenia and, possibly, in case it represents an added value to the project, or is necessary for the content of the project, also institutions from other countries participating in the EEA/NFM Scholarship Fund. Organisations shall implement the IP in Slovenia.

Award criteria	1. Relevance

	The benefits of the Bilateral/European cooperation in the prov in specific subjects - e.g. added value of the offered IP versus level of the participating institutions, are clear and well-de	s existing courses on the fined. The IP includes a multidisciplinary approach, which enhances cooperation by various fields of academia.	petween students from
F	2. Quality of goals; innovative character
	The goals and principles of the IP are clear, realistic and deal with an appropriate topic.
	The IP shall offer to the participating students and teaching state the meaning of learning opportunities, the development of information and others.
-	3. Methodology and work programme
-	The methodology is consistent with set goals. A clear description	on of the pedagogical and didactic approaches is provided. The proposal defines target groups. An explanation of the method of selection of participating students is provided. The balance of staff and students allows for active group work. Students that will partici receive ECTS credits. The proposal provides a description of me	- recognition within the framework of the IP.
	4. Learning outcomes, ECTS and recognition
	The expected learning outcomes are relevant. The IPs, in additi	on to learning outcomes, support transfer of cross-competencies with regard to compe	etencies in connection to subjects. The work (study) load of the participating student	s is recognised by ECTS credits. The proposal provides a description of the provision	ns on the recognition of studies carried out within the framework of the intensive programme.
-	5. Partnership, leadership, monitoring and project evaluation Partnership is of high quality. The distribution of tasks between partners ensures the achievement of the outcomes and active involvement of all partners. There is an appropriate balance between the partners in the meaning of their responsibilities and inclusion in the activities being implemented. Appropriate measures are foreseen to ensure efficient communication and cooperation between partners. Financial and contractual obligations are clearly explained. Monitoring and IP evaluation measures
-	are clearly defined and effective.
-	6. Dissemination and use of outcomes; IP effect Dissemination and use of IP outcomes activities are well-planned and shall ensure optimal use of outcomes by the participating institutions and, if feasible, in the wider community. The expected outcomes are relevant and shall affect the quality of teaching in the relevant subject field at the participating institutions	. The proposal indicates multiplier effects or potential spin-off outcomes of the IP.
